1. Analysis of Financial Results and Financial Position

(1) Analysis of Financial Results

[Consolidated Results for the year ended March 31, 2016]

During the current fiscal year, the Japanese economy continued to show signs of improvement with respect to corporate profit and employment. However, uncertainty for the future prevailed, as consumer spending started to slowdown from the end of the previous year.

In terms of the global economy during the period subject to consolidated accounting from January to December, the U.S. witnessed continuing improvement in employment and the increase in consumer spending, despite a slowdown in the growth of private sector capital spending. The economy continued to recover moderately in Europe, while in Asia, the Chinese economy gradually decelerated.

The Company and its group companies experienced a challenging business environment in its Marine Products Business, due in part to a massive drop in sales prices in the South American salmon /trout aquaculture business. In the Food Product Business, the domestic segment saw the cost rise of imported raw materials and processed products because of the continued weakening yen, but the increase was partially offset by mark-ups and cost reduction efforts. Sales grew in North America and Europe, helped by an economic recovery trend. As a consequence, the Food Product Business posted healthy results as a whole.

Under these circumstances, as consolidated results for the fiscal year, we recorded sales of 637,164 million yen, down 1,270 million yen year-on-year; operating income of 19,442 million yen, up 1,332 million yen year-on-year; and ordinary income of 20,696 million yen, down 695 million yen year-on-year. Profit for the fiscal year attributable to the owners of the parent company was 11,983 million yen, up 1,706 million yen year-on-year.

The overview by segment is as follows:

(Unit : million yen)

	Net Sales	Increase/Decrease (Y-on-Y)	Y-on-Y	Operating Income	Increase/Decrease (Y-on-Y)	Y-on-Y
Marine Products	269,623	(15,260)	94.6%	4,042	(2,254)	64.2%

Fishery Business: Both revenue and income decreased year-on-year.

[Japan]

- In addition to a decrease in fuel cost, which was a result of a fall in crude oil prices, the sales volume of yellowtail and sardine increased.

[South America]

- Hoki and southern blue whiting catches were weak, causing sales volume to decline.

Aquaculture Business: Both revenue and income decreased year-on-year.

[Japan]

- Sales volume of yellowtail increased significantly, despite the increase in production costs as a result of the surge in the price of feed, in addition to the sales prices remaining soft.

- While the sales price of tuna remained steady, sales volume was down.

[South America]

- The salmon/trout business experienced a challenging business environment, due to the rise in production costs attributed to the surge in feed prices, the impact of fish diseases, and huge drop in sales prices.

Seafood Processing and Trading Business: Revenues decreased and income increased year-on-year

[Japan]

- The inventory level was held at an optimal level consistent with sales. In addition, sales prices of fishmeal and tuna increased.

[North America]

- The sales volume of Alaskan Pollack fillets decreased and the production volume of roe declined. However, production volume and sales price of surimi paste increased.

[North America]

- While efforts including the consolidation of plants by companies that sell frozen foods for household use had some effects, sales of core products failed to grow amid intensified competition, which resulted in a decrease in income.

- Companies that sell frozen foods for food services benefited from a fall in the price of a primary raw material, shrimp. In addition, sales to the major restaurant chains were strong.

[Europe]

- Sales volume of chilled marine products grew and a new production line was reinforced.

(5) Notes on Consolidated Financial Statements

(Notes on the Premise of Going Concern)

Not applicable.

(Significant Assumptions Underlying the Preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statements)

1. Matters concerning the scope of consolidation

(a) Consolidated subsidiaries	62 corporations
(Newly added this fiscal year)	4 corporations
(Eliminated this fiscal year)	1 corporation

(b) Nonconsolidated subsidiaries	6 corporations
----------------------------------	----------------

Because the non-consolidated subsidiaries are small in terms of their total assets, net sales, net income and retained earnings, they did not have material impact on the consolidated financial statements.

2. Matters concerning the application of the equity method

Corporations accounted for by the equity method

Non-consolidated subsidiaries	6 corporations
Affiliate corporations	26 corporations
(Eliminated this fiscal year)	4 corporations

The equity method was not applied to the investment made in an affiliate corporation not subject to the equity method, since it did not have a material effect on the net income or retained earnings.

(Changes in accounting policies)

(Application of the Business Combinations Accounting Standards)

Effective from the fiscal year under review, the Company has adopted the “Accounting Standard for Business Combinations” (ASBJ Statement No. 21, September 13, 2013, hereinafter referred to as the “Business Combinations Accounting Standards”), the “Accounting Standard for Consolidated Financial Statements” (ASBJ Statement No. 22, September 13, 2013, hereinafter referred to as the “Consolidated Financial Statements Accounting Standard”), and the “Accounting Standard for Business Divestitures” (ASBJ Statement No. 7, September 13, 2013, hereinafter referred to as the “Business Divestitures Accounting Standard”). Accordingly, for subsidiaries the Company continues to control, differences arising due to changes in the equity portion are reported as capital surplus and costs associated with the acquisition of shares are reported as expenses in the consolidated fiscal year in which they are incurred. Additionally, for business combinations that are implemented after the beginning of the current fiscal year, the allocation of the cost of acquisitions, as determined after review of provisional accounting treatment, is reflected in the consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year in which the business combination took place. Furthermore, the Company has changed the method of presenting net income and changed minority interests in income to a non-controlling interest item. To reflect these changes in presentation, the Company has restated the consolidated financial statements for the previous fiscal year.

Regarding the application of the Business Combinations Accounting Standards, the Company has applied the provisional accounting treatment contained in Business Combination Accounting Standard 58-2 (4), Consolidated Financial Statements Accounting Standard 44-5 (4), and Business Divestitures Accounting Standard 57-4 (4) and will continue to apply these standards from the beginning of the fiscal year under review.

In the consolidated statements of cash flow for the fiscal year under review, cash flows relating to acquisition or sale of shares of subsidiaries that do not result in a change in the scope of consolidation are recorded under “cash flows from financing activities.” Cash flows related to costs relating to acquisition of shares of subsidiaries that result in a change in the scope of consolidation and cash flows related to the costs arising from acquisition or sale of shares of subsidiaries that do not result in a change in the scope of consolidation are recorded under “cash flows from operating activities.” The impact of the above changes on the consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year under review is minimal.

(Revision of the amounts of deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities due to the change in corporate income tax rate)

Pursuant to the “Act on Partial Revision of the Income Tax Act” and the “Act on Partial Revision of the Local Tax Act,” which passed the Diet on March 29, 2016, the statutory effective tax rate used in the calculation of deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 (However, limited to those that are expected to be reversed on and after April 1, 2016) has been changed from the 31.33% of the previous fiscal year to 29.97% for those expected to be collected or paid during the period from April 1, 2016 to March 31, 2018, and to 29.74% for those expected to be collected or paid on and after April 1, 2018.

As a result of these changes, deferred tax assets (net of deferred tax liabilities) decreased by 62 million yen, income taxes-deferred recorded in the current fiscal year, valuation difference on available-for-sale securities and remeasurements of defined benefit plans increased by 274 million yen, 212 million yen, and 3 million, respectively, and deferred gains or losses on hedges decreased by 4 million yen.
